Read the message. Then complete the rules with the underlined words.

Hi Kylie, I'm sorry I couldn't meet you yesterday and I don't think I can go out on Thursday, either. I may be busy all evening on Friday, too, so Saturday might be better. There's a new film on at the cinema. I don't know much about it but it's got our favourite actor in it, so it could be really good! Let me know what you think. Lauren

1 We use ..... to talk about ability in the present and ..... to talk about ability in the past.

2 We use ....., ... or ..... for possibility in the present or future, with no real difference in meaning.

Choose the correct option in italics.

Hi Lauren, thanks for your message. I (1) might not / couldn't reply to you earlier because I was in class. I (2) may / can see you're very busy at the moment, so perhaps it (3) can / might be better to meet another weekend. It's a shame we (4) can't / may not see each other more often. You're my best friend and I know I (5) might / can always tell you anything. I (6) could / couldn't phone you in the next few days if you like. Love, Kylie
