The Frog and The Mouse

Once upon a time, there were two close friends - the frog and the mouse. The frog often met the mouse at his house as they both share the food and provision stocked by the mouse.

One day, the frog asked the mouse to come to his house. The frog said, “Dear mouse, I come to your house all the time, now, I invite you to come to my place”. The mouse replied, “Your house is across the stream. I don’t know how to swim. I'm scared of drowning”.

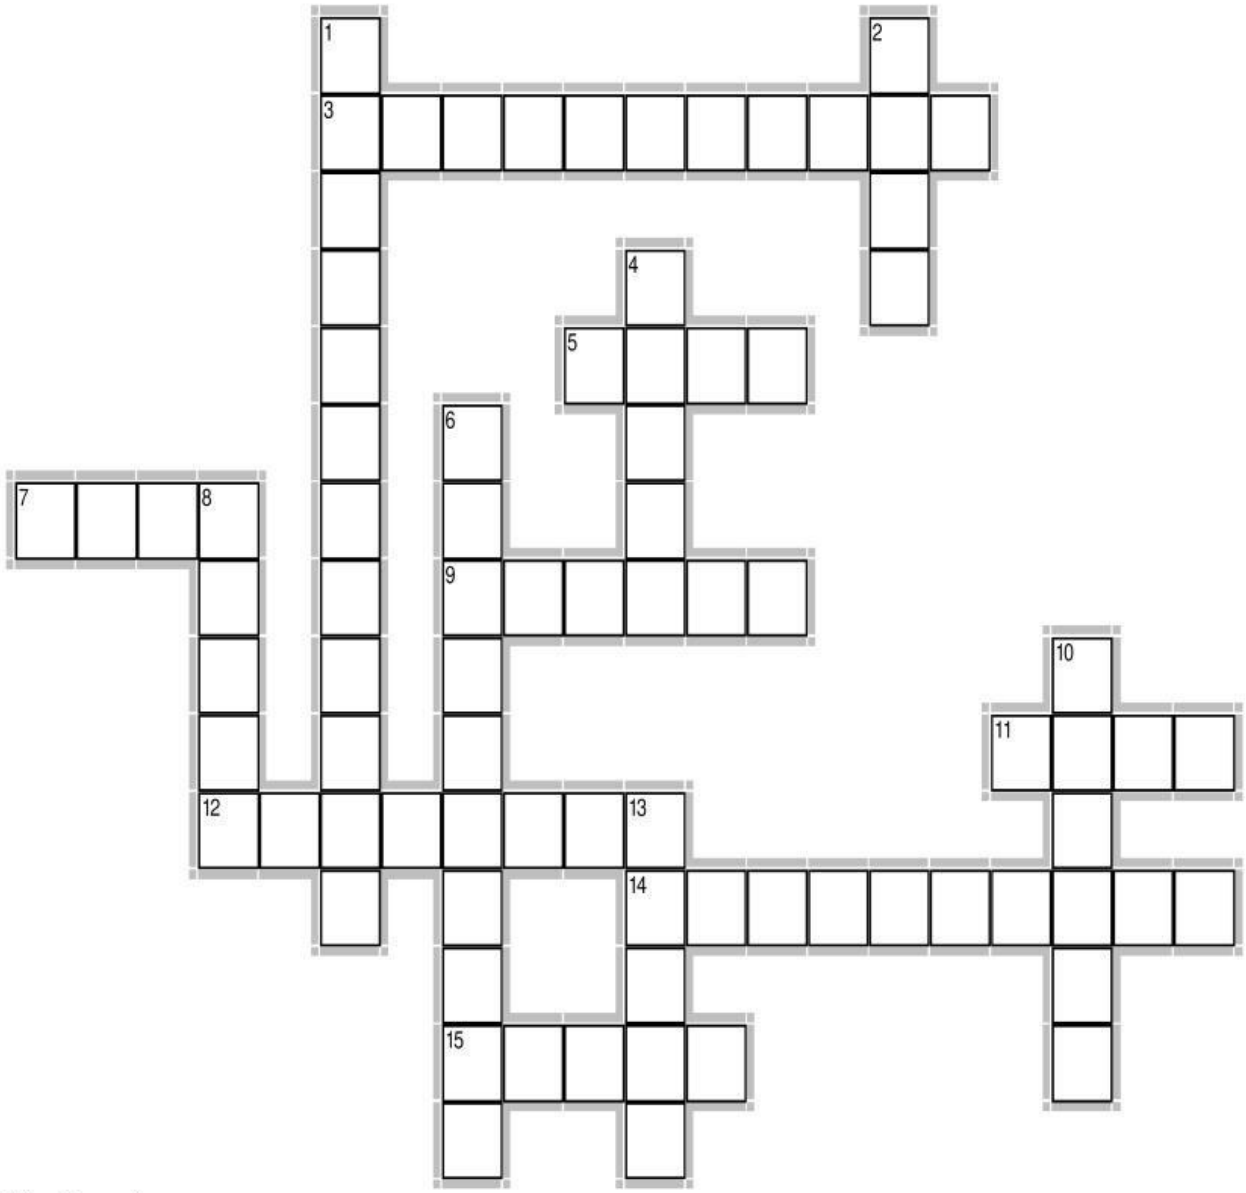
The frog said, “You don’t panic, I have a beautiful plan for you. You come and climb on my back and I will tie you to me with a strong blade of grass. With this, you can safely cross the stream. The mouse immediately agreed to this and they both set out.

Halfway across the stream, the frog thought of eating the mouse. He thought: “If I let the mouse drown, I can get all his stocked food and I don't need to take much heed about being hungry for a long time.” So, the wicked frog dives for the bottom of the stream.

As the mouse realized the dishonesty of the frog, he started crying for help. “Help me! Help me!” cried the mouse. A hawk flying above the stream saw this scene and dived down to help the mouse. The hawk held him with its beak and began to fly high in the sky. The frog tied to the mouse's back also flew away.

In the end, the frog realized his mistake. In his greed to get more and more food, he had not only lost the trust of his good friend but also put his own life in danger.

LIVEWORKSHEETS



EclipseCrossword.com

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Across

3. Narrative structure introducing characters and background
5. Tenses are used in narrative text.
7. The animal who lived across the stream
9. The water body they needed to cross
11. The bird that saved the mouse
12. What the mouse was afraid of
14. The structure of narrative text about problem solving by main character
15. What the frog lost from the mouse

Down

1. The structure of narrative text which contains about conflict
2. What the mouse had in his house
4. what is the type of narrative story
6. The quality the frog showed
8. The emotion that led to frog's downfall
10. he frog's true intention
13. What the frog used to tie the mouse

LIVEWORKSHEETS