HOURGLASS BY SET IT OFF

When pretending lends a helping hand
We hold it close, so close, and _____
Then the pen begins to write a story
With an end that bends right
_____

[Pre-Chorus]
How did we get so jaded? I don't know
Was it the white lies feeding our egos?
I never valued minutes I burned through
Is that just how it goes?
Seconds I wasted, I was fixated
You're devastated, sorry to say
_____, is this where I give in?

[Chorus]
I'm falling through the hourglass
And I don't think I'll ever _____
So I throw stones at walls I'll never climb
Victim to the _____
Falling through the hourglass
The hourglass

Time (Time) is strange (Is strange), it's ever-flowing
Never going back (Back), it moves (Moves),
_____
Turn the page, look back at what you wrote
Do you still feel (Feel) the same (The same)?
I'll bet _____ has changed

How did it get so scary? I don't know
[Pre-Chorus]

[Chorus]

'Cause that's just _____ x3

[Chorus]

Lend a helping hand – to help someone
Bend (verb) – to change its shape
Jaded (adjective) – unenthusiastic, without interest
White lies – lies that are told to make a situation better
Devastated (adjective) – disappointed and lost
Give in – surrender and agree with what smb wants

LIVEWORKSHEETS