Student A: Excuse me! Are you looking for the old cathedral?

Student B: Yes, please. How can I get there?

Student A: Go straight past the museum, turn left at the traffic lights, then cross the street and go past the café. After that, you'll see a small B&B next to the cathedral.

Student B: Sorry, you're speaking too fast. Could you say that again more slowly?

Student A: Sure. Go straight past the museum. Turn left at the traffic lights. Then cross the street. The cathedral is next to the B&B.

Student B: What does "B&B" mean?

Student A: It means "Bed and Breakfast," a small hotel.

Student B: Okay, so I go past the museum, turn left, and the cathedral is next to the B&B?

Student A: That's right!

Student B: Great, thank you!

Student A: You're welcome!
