ВАРИАНТ 9 2025

Прочитайте текст. Выберите один из предложенных вариантов ответа.

Last summer I (A1) ... Britain. On the first day I (A2) ... unwell as I had a bad headache, so I asked the hotel owner where I could get some aspirin. She said: "There's a chemist's on the high street." A chemist's is what British people call a pharmacy and high street is known as main street in America. That was a classic illustration of two nations divided by a common language. The phrase high street (A3) ... to tourists because it is a part of everyday life in the UK. It means the main commercial street in every British town. If you go to the UK, you (A4) ... to find out that a town's high street is not always the most important place in town and often has another official name.

A1. 1) have visited
2) was visited
3) visited
4) had visited
5) visit

A2. 1) have felt
2) have been feeling
3) was felt
4) was feeling
5) feel

A3. 1) hardly ever explains
2) is hardly ever explained
3) has hardly ever explained
4) was hardly ever explaining
5) will hardly ever explain

A4. 1) will be surprised
2) have surprised
3) are surprising
4) surprise
5) will surprise

LIVEWORKSHEETS