

All you need is love, by The Beatles

1 – Listen to the song and fill in the gaps with the verbs you hear in the passive form.

Love, Love, Love (three times)

There's nothing you can do that

Nothing you can sing that

Nothing you can say but you can learn how to play the game. It's easy.

Nothing you can make that

No one you can save that Nothing you can do but you can learn how to be you in time. It's easy.

All you need is love (three times)

Love is all you need (repeats)

Nothing you can know that

Nothing you can see that

Nowhere you can be that isn't where you _____ to be.

It's easy. All you need is love...

2 – Read the biography and underline all the examples of passive voice, then write T or F.

The Beatles were an English rock band, formed in Liverpool in 1960. With members John Lennon, Paul McCartney, George Harrison and Ringo Starr, they became widely regarded as the foremost and most influential act of the rock era. In the early 1960s, their enormous popularity first emerged as "Beatlemania", which is a term that describes the intense fan frenzy directed toward the British band. The phenomenon began in 1963 and continued past the band's breakup in 1970. The Beatles built their reputation playing clubs in Liverpool and Hamburg over a three-year period from 1960, with Stuart Sutcliffe initially serving as bass player. The core of Lennon, McCartney and Harrison went through a succession of drummers, most notably Pete Best, before asking Starr to join them. They gained popularity in the United Kingdom after their first hit, "Love Me Do", in late 1962. They acquired the nickname "the Fab Four" as Beatlemania grew in Britain over the following year, and by early 1964 they had become international stars, leading the "British Invasion" of the United States pop market. From 1965 onwards, the Beatles produced what many consider their finest material, including the innovative and widely influential albums Rubber Soul (1965), Revolver (1966), Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band (1967), The Beatles (commonly known as the White Album, 1968) and Abbey Road (1969). After their break-up in 1970, they each enjoyed successful musical careers of varying lengths. McCartney and Starr, the surviving members, remain musically active. Lennon was shot and killed in December 1980, and Harrison died of lung cancer in November 2001.
