Exercise 3. Imagine that you are writing an email to your pen friend from England who wants to learn about Ukraine. Write where Ukraine is situated, how large it is, what are the population and the capital, what rivers, seas and mountains are there; say that you are proud of your country and love it very much. Start like this:

Dear Toby,

How are you?

In your last letter you asked about my country, and I'll be glad to write about it.
