Borneo

1 ___

Borneo is the third largest island in the world. There are rivers, caves, lakes, mountains, beaches, valleys and much more on the island. Mount Kinabalu is 4,095 m and is the highest point on the island. The Gomantong Caves are another interesting place to visit. Birds and other wildlife live in the caves.

2 ___

The most popular destination for animal lovers in Borneo is Sepilok Orangutan Centre in the Kabili rainforest. The centre opened in 1964 to help young orangutans. The best time for tourists to visit is at 10.00 a.m. or 3.00 p.m. because some of the orangutans come to the centre to eat fruit at these times. You can't always see an orangutan, though. The centre teaches the orangutans to live in the forest without help from people. One of the most important skills the young orangutans learn is how to climb. You can often see them practise on ropes and trees at the centre. Sometimes, there is other wildlife at the centre, too, such as the Bornean Pygmy elephant.

3 ___

There are lots of other exciting things to do in Borneo. Jungle walks are one of the most popular activities, but there is also mountain biking and kayaking. You can also go scuba diving and see the beautiful coral reefs. After all this, you can relax on some of Borneo's many amazing beaches. The food in Borneo is delicious. There are lots of fantastic restaurants where you can eat traditional dishes.
