Name

SUBORDINATING CONJUNCTIONS

Match the beginnings (1–14) with the correct endings (A–N).

Although María studied hard,	A. the flight was delayed.
Even though the weather was terrible,	B. she forgot her lines.
Despite being very tired,	C. you will not improve your English.
Unless you study regularly,	D. the match continued as planned
Since the internet stopped working,	E. Ana prefers studying in person.
Because Sofía was nervous,	F. she did not pass the exam.
Because of the heavy rain,	G. Carlos finished the project on time.
If you need help,	H. we could not continue the presentation.
Whereas Diego enjoys math,	I. you can call me after class.
While I understand your opinion,	J. I disagree with your conclusion.
Despite practicing every day,	K. he still could not improve his pronunciation.
As the classroom was very noisy,	L. the students could not hear the teacher.

On a sheet of paper, use the given subordinator to join the sentences into one complete sentence. Do not change the position of the subordinator. Use correct punctuation, including commas when necessary and a period at the end.

1. Although_____

- María studied hard.
- She did not pass the exam.

2. _____even though_____

- The weather was terrible.
- The match continued as planned.

3. Despite_____

- Carlos was very tired.
- He finished the project on time.

4. _____unless_____

- You study regularly.
- You will not improve your English.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Name

5. Since_____

- The internet stopped working.
- We could not continue the presentation.

6._____ because_____

- Sofía was nervous.
- She forgot her lines.

7. Because of_____

- There was heavy rain.
- The flight was delayed.

8. If _____

- You need help.
- You can call me after class.

9. _____ whereas_____

- Diego enjoys math.
- Ana prefers literature.

10. While_____

- I understand your opinion.
- I disagree with your conclusion.

11. Despite_____

- practicing every day.
- He still could not improve his pronunciation.

12. _____as_____

- The classroom was very noisy.
- The students could not hear the teacher.

LIVEWORKSHEETS