READING COMPREHENSION:

FOOTBALL vs. VOLLEYBALL: WHICH SPORT IS BETTER?

Two students, Alex and Mia, are having a debate about which sport is better. Read their opinions and decide who makes the stronger case.

ALEX: FOOTBALL IS THE BEST!

Football is the world's most popular sport for a reason. First of all, it is exciting and unpredictable. A match can change in a second with one goal. The atmosphere in a stadium is incredible, and the fans create energy like no other sport.

Football also requires a complete set of skills. You need speed, strength, endurance, and tactical intelligence. Every player has different responsibilities, and working together is essential.

Moreover, football is a global language. You can play it anywhere with just a ball and some friends. It brings people from different countries and cultures together.

For me, football is more demanding, more thrilling, and has a bigger impact on the world. That's why it is the best sport!

MIA: VOLLEYBALL IS BETTER!

Volleyball may not be as popular as football, but that doesn't mean it is not better. It's a sport that relies on teamwork more than anything else. Every point is the result of perfect communication and trust between teammates.

It is also faster than people think. Players need quick reflexes, great coordination, and mental focus. One small mistake can cost a point, so you have to stay concentrated all the time.

Another advantage is that volleyball is a fair sport. There is less physical contact, which means the game is safer and more about skill than power. It is exciting to watch because rallies can last many seconds, and every point feels deserved.

In my opinion, volleyball is more elegant, more balanced, and the truest test of teamwork. That's what makes it better!
