Common Adjective & Preposition Combinations

Adjectives are words used to describe a person, place, or thing, for example:

- The tall man in the red shirt is a friend of mine.
- We drove along a quiet road until reaching a small town.
- I'm reading an interesting book.
-

Prepositions are words used to connect two ideas, or to demonstrate the relationship between two concepts. Examples of prepositions in English include at, in, on, for, to, with, and from.

- The little boy was punished after being rude _____ his grandfather.
- Playing memory games is excellent _____ improving your brain function.
- Marlene is very involved _____ volunteer work.
- There are many health risks associated _____ smoking
- The mall is always full _____ teenagers on the weekend.
- Camila is good _____ songwriting and painting.
- Looking at screens all day is bad _____ your eyesight.
- He's terrible _____ math – he failed the class twice!
- The kids are very fond_____ the puppy.
- The movie is very similar _____ the book.
- I was fed up _____ my boyfriend's lies, so I ended the relationship.
- Giovanni is interested _____ classic English literature.
- She was highly skilled _____ physics and chemistry.
- Chocolate and red wine are actually good_____your heart!
- Everyone I met on the trip was friendly _____ me.
- My mother is angry at me because I forgot her birthday.
- We've been working overtime lately because we've been busy _____ a new project.
- You practiced a lot and gave a great performance – I'm proud _____ you!
- I'm surprised _____ how fast my students are learning.
- The teacher was disappointed _____ the behavior of the class.
- I wasn't satisfied with the customer service at the bank.
- He's married _____ an Australian woman
- Brazil is known _____ its wonderful music and friendly people.
- Jewell is afraid _____ swimming in the ocean.

LIVEWORKSHEETS