The Silver Bell

Long ago, a young hero named Tamsin lived in a village beside a tall mountain. One morning, the village bell went missing. Without its ringing, the farmers could not know when to plant their seeds. Tamsin decided to climb the mountain and find it. She packed bread, a rope, and a small lantern. Along the way, she crossed a rushing river and met an old eagle. The eagle said, "Only a kind heart can open the cave door." Tamsin shared her bread with the eagle. The eagle smiled and flew her to the cave. Inside, the silver bell glowed in the dark. Tamsin carried it home, and the village rang its bell once more.

1Why did Tamsin climb the mountain? Tell two things that happened on her trip.
