

Writing about future plans

Remember

- We can use the present continuous tense to talk about definite future plans and here are some examples:
- I am buying a sofa tomorrow.
- He isn't travelling to Mecca this year.
- What are we having for dinner?

Look at these sentences below.

- ❖ Change the verb to the present continuous tense.
- ❖ Remember to use the correct form of verb to be: am, are or is before the 'ing' verb.

a) I (go) to my cousin's wedding next month.

b) I (buy) some clothes and presents for the wedding.

c) My friend (come) shopping with me.

d) We (take) a lovely present for my cousin.

Have you checked your verbs and spelling ?