COLÉGIO EVEREST INTERNACIONAL

Name: _____ Date: ____/____/_____

Teacher: _____ 4rd Grade ____ Mark: _____

EF04LILA01.10 Explain the function of conjunctions and prepositions in general and their function in particular sentences.

Subordinating Conjunctions

Conjunctions are words that join two or more words, phrases or clauses. A subordinating conjunction is a conjunction that introduces a subordinate clause or dependent clause. Dependent clauses start with subordinating conjunctions such as (so, because, since, before, even though, after, although, wherever, while etc..)

1) Write a sentence with each subordinate clause given below.

Example A: For- _____

Answer: For the first time, I successfully passed all my classes.

a) After: _____

_____

b) Although: _____

_____

c) While: _____

_____

LIVEWORKSHEETS