Spiders

A lot of people are afraid of spiders, but spiders are very useful. They catch flies and other insects that we don't like. There are about 35,000 different sorts of spiders in the world, but only about thirty are dangerous for human beings. Spiders are not insects. They have got eight legs, and insects have got six legs.

In the house, it is often difficult to catch a spider because it moves so quickly. The Camel spider can run at 19 kph*. Can spiders fly? Yes, sometimes. Baby spiders make a long line of silk. Then the wind carries the silk and the spider into the air, and the young spider starts its life in a new place. A lot of spiders use their silk to make a web. When an insect flies into the web, the spider catches it and eats it.

The Goliath tarantula lives in the rainforests of South America. It is 28 cm long and its two "teeth" are 2.5 cm long. It eats frogs, small snakes and lizards, and it sometimes eats birds!
