summer

In British schools, pupils normally have a double lesson of PE each week.

In most schools, boys play football or rugby in the winter. In summer, they play cricket and they do athletics.

Girls normally play hockey or netball (a kind of basketball) in the winter. They play tennis and they do athletics in the summer.

Most schools have a sports day in the summer. There are races and other athletics events, like the high jump, long jump and javelin. Parents and grandparents come to watch, and there are prizes for the winners.
