Last year we went camping on our holidays. We left our car in the [1]picnic area / car park because we couldn't take our car into the campsite. The place was beautiful. There was lots of long grass in the [2]campsite / visitor centre, so you felt like you were camping in the wild. There was a [3]car park / picnic area in the middle where all the families met and ate dinner together around a fire. We took our bikes, which was good because there were lots of [4]campsites / cycle paths and we walked a lot, too. There were lots of [5]forest trails / picnic areas through the trees. There wasn't a [6]visitor centre / car park because the campsite was quite small, but there was a little shop.
