A) Click on the paragraph and listen to the reading.

Mangrove trees can grow in salt water but other plants cannot. The thin 'skin' on the surface of the roots of the mangrove trees prevents the salt from entering the plant. The leaves also remove salt from the plant.

B) Click on the box below and record your reading of paragraph above.

LIVEWORKSHEETS