The legend of Jong Batu

One day, Si Manis told his mother, Dang Embun, that [1]he wanted to travel abroad and became a successful merchant. At first [2]she did not let him go because Si Manis was her only child. However, when Si Manis still wanted to go sailing, she let him go, although it made her sad. Si Manis left Kampong Ayer to seek his fortune in the city of Sulu in the Philippines.

After many years, he was successful and rich. He married a pretty noblewoman and became the owner of a huge ship. He was known as Nakhoda Manis.

His mother, who was left alone, missed her son very much. Every day, she waited at the jetty and hoped that her beloved son would return safely to Brunei. She also shared her money with poor people with the hope that her son would always be safe. One day all her money had gone and she found herself poor like [3]them.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Choose the correct answer.

1. Who is [1]he in this story? _____
2. Who is [2]she in this story? _____
3. Who are [3]them in this story? _____

4. Why did Si Manis want to travel abroad?

   He wanted to travel abroad because _____

5. What made Dang Embun sad?

   Her only son had _____

6. Who did Si Manis marry to?

   He married to _____.

7. What was his new name after he became successful and rich?

   He was known as _____.

8. Why was Dang Embun at the jetty every day?

   She was at the jetty every day because she _____

LIVEWORKSHEETS