READING COMPREHENSION & WRITING.

Lee la siguiente entrevista y responde las preguntas.

CHRISTMAS IN NEW YORK.

Christmas is going to take place in December, and this year, New York is going to celebrate Christmas in a big way, the stores are already crowded with Christmas decorations because soon it's going to be Christmas, now we meet Lesley, a citizen Christmas enthusiast, we are going to ask her some questions about what she knows about the event this year.

Lesley: Oh! You know, it's like every year, the houses are going to be decorated with lights and lots of sleighs accompanied by Santa and his moose, there are going to be lots of snowmen and contests to see who knows the most Christmas carols or who can drink the most chocolate, people are going to dress up in their ugly Christmas sweaters, on Thanksgiving Day there are going to be a big parade, lots of gingerbread cookies, Christmas trees are going to be pre-cut and lavishly decorated, Santa socks are going to be put on the mantel, Christmas dinner are going to be prepared on Christmas Day and after midnight, children and adults are going to open all the presents under the tree.

thank you for answering our question, Lesley.

Christmas is coming friends!

are you going to celebrate Christmas?

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Según la información de la lectura, responde las siguientes preguntas.

Are there going to be parades?

Are the trees going to be fake and artificial?

Are the gifts going to be opened 15 minutes before midnight?

Are there going to be Christmas contests?

Are people going to dress formally during Christmas?

People are not going to decorate their homes?

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Lesley is going to be a foreigner who doesn't know much about New York and Christmas?

households are going to give milk, cookies and carrots to Santa Claus?

Christmas is only going to be celebrated every 2 years?

Responde según tu opinión.

Are you going to celebrate Christmas?

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

LIVEWORKSHEETS