Subject: Birthday Money

Hi,
 My parents gave me some money to buy a present for my birthday! Fantastic
 I've got a lot of clothes, so I'd like to buy something different for a change. Tell Alex
 What do you think I should get? I'm allowed to play online games up to an hour a day, but only if I've finished my homework. What do you do online?
 I'd like to go in town this weekend. Are you free? Yes
 Bye for now,
 Alex.

Subject: New cooking club

Hi,
Thanks for joining my new club. My idea is to help you improve your English while you learn to cook delicious food!

Great Can you let me know if you've cooked much before? Give Ms Daniel details.

We could cook foods from different countries, or we could all bring our favourite recipes from home. What do you think would be better? Suggest

Are there any foods that you don't want to cook? I hope you will enjoy my club. Explain

Bye,
Ms Daniel

Dear Ms Daniel,

I think your new club is an (1) idea and I can't wait until it starts. It will be a lot of fun (2) English and cooking at the same time.

I haven't done much cooking before apart (3) helping my mum out with some baking.

I (4) suggest cooking different dishes from one country (5) week. We could start with Italian food as everyone likes that and maybe (6) food the following week.

Let's try to cook healthy food (7) than dishes with too much fat or sugar in them.

I hope my suggestions have been (8) to you.

Best wishes,

Sam

- Hi,
- I'm excited because next month I'm starting my beginners' classes to learn your language!
- I've never studied a foreign language before - thanks for agreeing to meet to give me some ideas.
- Are you free next Monday afternoon after school? My parents say they'll buy a dictionary to help me learn new vocabulary and perhaps some songs. Do you think that's a good idea?
- You said that you'd help me with something after I start my classes. Can you still do that?
- Bye,
Chris.
