

Writing part 1

Read an extract about homeschooling

Homeschooling also known as home education, is the education of children inside the home. In other words, a home schooling is a school in which parents teach their children academic subjects at home instead of public or private school. Homeschooling is legal in many countries in the world.

Write an essay to educated readers to discuss advantages and disadvantages of and whether this trend, in your opinion, will be popular in your country.

Answer:

It is _____ that homeschooling also known as home education, is the education of children inside the home. In other words, a home schooling is a school in which parents teach their children academic subjects at home instead of public or private school. Homeschooling is legal in many countries in the world. In this _____, the writer will _____ and _____ of and whether this trend, in _____ opinion, will be popular in _____ country.

There are a lot of _____ of _____. The _____ is that it _____ to _____ a lot of money. This is because the school _____ is free. Besides, it is _____ that Parents can take care _____ their children _____. The _____ is that they _____ more time with their children.

On the _____ hand, people also _____ about its _____. The first _____ point is that it is sometimes bad for the _____ of children. This is because parents have no _____ on _____. Another _____ is that it is not good _____ the parents' job. The _____ is that one _____ has to stop _____.

In _____, there are both advantages and disadvantages of this _____. It is important to find _____ ways to maximize the _____ and minimize the _____.