SPELLING

There is one incorrectly spelt word in each line. Write the correct word in the box provided on each line.

Scientists realized that careles, wasteful methods of farming and indostry were changing the natural environment rapidly and were distroying resources.

They went to work to renew our wildlive, soil, forests and grasslands. The work of managing and preseving

and protecting these resources is called consarvation.