Simple Past – Irregular Verbs

Do you remember? To form regular verbs in the past, we add –ed (play-played; love-loved; want-wanted) to the verbs.

However, irregular verbs are different and we can find them in a List of Irregular Verbs (Check the verb list on page 108).

These are some examples:

Infinitive	Past	Infinitive	Past
be	was / were	know	knew
become	became	make	made
buy	bought	meet	met
fall	fell	say	said
go	went	spend	spent
have	had	take	took
hear	heard	write	wrote

Past Time Expressions

When we speak in the past, we often use time expressions such as:
last year / last month / last week
two days ago / three weeks ago
yesterday
the day before yesterday
this morning

Two years ago, I visited New Zealand and I loved it!
I saw Mrs Jones this morning.
I went to the theatre yesterday.

4) Look at the Sign Up to Grammar box above. Then read the texts and write below all the irregular verbs in the past, and the time expressions. Then listen and check the pronounciation of the verbs. AUDIO.
Mirar la tabla de arriba. Luego leer los textos y escribir debajo todos los verbos irregulares en el pasado y las exprersiones de tiempo. Luego escuchar el audio y prestar atención a la pronunciación de los verbos.

1 Last summer I spent two weeks there and I loved it. The sports I loved were parasailing, whitewater rafting and mountain biking. I really want to buy my own mountain bike now! I might go back next year, but I'd really like to try some other extreme sports like skiing and snowboarding. I know it's expensive, but perhaps my parents will take me to Aspen next year.

2 I heard about Tahoe Extreme Youth Sports Camp from my cousin. She went there two years ago and she said it was great, so I wanted to go too. Some of the activities were a bit scary, so I didn't do everything. The best thing was I met lots of people and made lots of friends. We had so much fun together. We became so close that I still talk to a lot of them today. We often talk on MSN and write emails. I'd definitely like to go back next year. I hope Mum lets me!
