Past modals

A bad vacation

Instructions: Put the parts of the article in the correct place

A STORMY HONEYMOON

'What a terrible honeymoon!' She stated

They tried to get a flight but the airline told them that they might wait for the storm to calm down. The newlyweds had to spend the night in the lobby with other guests, so they told each other that they could have gotten a room in the nearest hotel before it started raining. They both thought that their friends would have said: We would have gone to Spain instead.

Kelly Flores and her husband found themselves in the middle of a hurricane on their honeymoon.

The couple was supposed to fly to Aruba, but they had to stop briefly in Puerto Rico to change planes. Upon arriving to Puerto Rico, they couldn't leave the island because there was a category four hurricane. Kelly told her husband that he should have checked the weather forecast.

The next day they finally arrived to Aruba, they could have been at the beach but they were in the hotel room asleep.