

1. Read an article on brain drain (chảy máu chất xám)

Brain drain, the movement of highly skilled and educated people leaving their country to work in another country, has become one of the most worrying problem. Recently, more and more educated and talented experts have moved from developing countries to rich and developed countries seeking for more opportunities to develop and have a better life. This has greatly affected the developing countries.

Discuss the causes and suggest some possible solutions.

It is _____ that brain drain, the movement of highly skilled and educated people leaving their country to work in another country, has become one of the most worrying problem. Recently, more and more educated and talented experts have moved from developing countries to rich and developed countries seeking for more opportunities to develop and have a better life. This has greatly affected the developing countries. In this _____, the writer will _____ the causes and suggest some possible solutions.

There are a lot of _____ of _____. The main _____ is that In some foreign countries, the _____ is better. This is because Those countries are _____ . Besides, it is _____ that the _____ in foreign countries are _____. The _____ is that they have better education, _____, etc.

However, people have found some solutions for this problem. The first measure is that the _____ should _____ strict laws on this matter. This will have effects on people's _____. Another way is that We should educate people on the _____ of this matter. This is because This is because when people understand something _____, they will _____ better.

In short, there are many causes of _____. It is important to _____ the above ways _____ to minimize the cons.