We know that animals can evolve which is how we come to be human. We also know that Aboriginal people lived in Australia for 40,000 years before European Settlement and mass deforestation. Do you believe that the Yahoo was an alternate evolution of man? Do they still exist today? In the space below argue your case for the existence of the Yahoo or that people made up all the sightings. Think about why we may not see so many Yahoos today.