17. Have you ..... played a practical joke ..... someone?
18. Harry hasn't got up ..... . He is ..... lying in bed.
19. '..... do you rely .....?' 'My parents, of course.'
20. Yesterday ..... noon, I was cooking dinner ..... my husband was ironing his trousers.
21. ..... was little the rescuers could do ..... save the man's life, so he died ..... extreme frostbite.
22. Now ..... everything has ..... prepared, we can start distributing invitations ..... our anniversary reception.
23. Can you tell the difference ..... the political system in ..... USA and that in Great Britain?
24. ..... do you suspect ..... having destroyed the evidence?
25. You ..... better get rid ..... these chemicals. They ..... be dangerous.
26. The Browns, our neighbours, find ..... really hard to ..... ends meet.
27. Our boss is thinking ..... moving the company headquarters ..... a city bigger ..... Mursey.
28. 'Did any of them reply ..... your question?' 'No, ... of them knew ..... to answer it correctly.'
29. It cannot be the M5. If it ..... the M5, we would ..... going south.
30. Let's ..... a few photos here, ... we?
The landscapes are ..... magnificent than anywhere else I've been ..... .
31. 'How ..... having some grilled lamb instead ..... smoked pork?' 'That's a good idea. Could I also get a few ..... of bread?'
32. Paris may be famous ..... its artistic freedom, but I'd much ..... live in Vienna.
33. I was told ..... mail the letters as ..... as possible.
34. If ..... it were summer, we would be ..... to go swimming in the sea and sunbathing ..... the beach.
35. ..... who are ..... favour of the notions, raise their right hands, please.
36. Your opinion is ..... great importance to me. I will never do anything ..... asking you first.

56. Come in please. Make ..... comfortable in the house. I'll bring you some snacks and drinks ..... a moment.
57. 'Who ..... the most noise ..... your group?' 'Tom does.'
58. I'd ..... you put ..... a warm pullover. It's ..... cold outside.
59. Whenever you buy a ..... of shoes, ... sure they are the right ..... .
60. According ..... what the psychiatrist says, her depression resulted ..... her previous misfortunes.
61. I borrowed fifty pounds ..... my father last week. On Monday, I gave him back thirty pounds, so I still ..... him twenty pounds.
62. You are ..... unkind, Mark. Stop laughing..... me so rudely.
63. ..... was my neighbour who they accused ..... committing the crime, ... surprised my strongly.
64. ..... hard you try, you will not manage ..... start the engine. It's been ..... of order ..... ages.
65. Before Mr Clark began working ..... a copywriter two months ago, he ..... been ..... the dole for six months.
66. It has been estimated that the car ..... travelling ..... the speed of one hundred kilometres ..... hour when it crashed.
67. I got angry ..... my brother ..... learning that he had used my laptop without asking ..... my permission.
68. This rope isn't strong ..... to be used ..... climbing.
69. It usually ..... me half an hour to ..... my hair in the morning.
70. The soldiers didn't stop marching ..... they reached the meeting point ..... was situated in the middle of ..... woods.
71. Under no ..... are you allowed to get ..... touch with the enemy intelligence.
72. Sarah can't ..... listening to ..... else's advice. She hates ..... ordered about.
73. It is required that tax declarations ..... be delivered ..... the end of the month.
74. 'What was it ..... at the party last night?' 'Oh, it was great. We all had a good ..... and enjoyed ..... a lot.'
75. Ann's not in. She's likely to ..... playing in the garden.