I'm _____ to you at what I know is an increasingly _____ time, a time of disruption in the life of our _____, a disruption that has brought grief to some, financial difficulties to many, and enormous _____ to the daily lives of us all. I want to _____ everyone on the NHS frontline, as well as care _____ and those carrying out essential roles who selflessly continue their day-to-day _____ outside the home in support of us all. I'm sure the _____ will join me in assuring you that what you do is _____, and every hour of your hard work brings us _____ to a return to more normal times. I _____ want to thank those of you who are staying at _____, thereby helping to _____ the vulnerable, and sparing many families the _____ already felt by those who have lost loved ones.

Task 2.

After watching, put the sentences in the correct order. (01:22)

Together we are tackling this disease,
in how they responded to this challenge,
and I want to reassure you that if we remain united and resolute,
The pride in who we are is not a part of our past,
then we will overcome it.
and those who come after us will say the Britons of this generation
I hope in the years to come everyone will be able to take pride and of fellow feeling still characterize this country.
were as strong as any,
that the attributes of self-discipline, of quiet, good-humored resolve, it defines our present and our future.

Task 3.

Task 4.

After watching, click on the words you find translation below. (02:11)

Across the Commonwealth and around the world, we have seen heartwarming stories of people coming together to help others, be it through delivering food parcels and medicines, checking on neighbors, or converting businesses to help the relief effort. And though self-isolating may at times be hard, many people of all faiths and of none are discovering that it presents an opportunity to slow down, pause and reflect in prayer or meditation.

Task 5.

After watching, use the words in Past Simple. (03:06)

It reminds me of the very first broadcast I _____ in 1940, _____ by my sister. We as children _____ from here at Windsor to children who had been evacuated from their homes and _____ away for their own safety.

Task 6.

After watching, decide if the sentences are true or false. (03:06)

Today, once again, many will feel a painful sense of separation from their loved ones, but now as then, we know deep down that it is the right thing to do. While we have faced challenges before, this one is different. This time we join with all nations across the globe in a common endeavor. Using the great advances of science and our instinctive compassion to heal, we will succeed, and that success will belong to every one of us. We should take comfort that while we may have more still to endure, better days will return. We will be with our friends again. We will be with our families again. We will meet again. But for now, I send my thanks and warmest good wishes to you all.
