What living things need to survive