

Tips for getting ready to listen.

1.- understand the context. Before listening, look at the questions, study them and try to predict what you might hear.

2.- Using the correct spelling. Always check your spelling. If you make a spelling mistake, your answer will be marked wrong.

3.- Writing Numbers. Listen for specific details.

PART 1

Fill the gaps with the missing information.

1 - We are losing our listening. We spend roughly __ % of our communication time listening. But we're not very good at it. We retain just __% percent of what we hear.

2.- Julian Treasure define listening as:

- a) Understanding through sound
- b) Getting to conclusions through sound
- c) Making meaning from sound

3.- Julian Treasure explains that listening is a

b) Mental process of extraction where we use some techniques as

- c) ----- is another technique we use... We listen to differences. We discount sounds that remain the same.
- d) And then, there is a whole range of ----- . These take us from all sound down to what we pay attention to.

4.- Julian Treasure gave an example of a filter. He said that ----- is very important in sound and listening.

5.- Sound places in ----- and -----.

6.- The quote mentioned in the Video is
