1. Living things are those things that perform three vital functions. Do you remember those three vital functions? Write their names after the correct definition.

- If the enviroment changes they react with a response.

  _____

- Living things produce new organisms similar to them. It can be sexual or asexual. _____
- All living things obtain nutrients from their environment and transform them into energy._____

2. Depending on the number of cells, we can classify living things into two different groups:

- _____ organisms are living things made up of many different cells.
- _____ organisms are living things made up of a single cell.

3. Translate the following words into Spanish.

Kingdoms:	Feed:
Fungi:	Interaction:
Living things:	Multicellular: