LGEG
Образовательный центр

Subject: Humanities
Teacher: Margarita
Group: F2
Name: _____

Match the words with the definitions.

1 focus group	a the study of human society and social relationships, including anthropology, sociology, psychology, economics, and political science
2 questionnaire	b research methods that involve collecting numerical data and analyzing it using statistical methods to draw conclusions
3 survey	c a scientific procedure carried out to test a hypothesis or demonstrate a known fact by observing and measuring the results
4 participate observation	d a research method that involves collecting data from a group of people through questionnaires, interviews, or online forms to gather information about their opinions or experiences

LIVEWORKSHEETS

5 social science	e a research method in which the observer remains separate from the group being observed and records observations without participating in the activities of the group
6 quantitative methods	f a research method in which the observer becomes part of the group being observed and records observations while participating in the activities of the group
7 qualitative methods	g research methods that involve collecting non-numerical data such as words, images, or observations, and analyzing it to identify patterns, themes, or meanings
8 interviews	h a formal or informal conversation between two people, where one person asks questions and the other person answers them
9 non-participant observation	i a set of written or printed questions with a choice of answers, designed to gather information on a particular topic or subject
10 experiment	j a research method that involves bringing together a small group of people to discuss a product, service, or idea, and gathering their opinions and feedback.

LIVEWORKSHEETS