

THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK

Part 1 – Read this extract from the diary of Anne Frank,
a Jewish girl hiding from the Nazis with her family:

Thursday, 9 July 1942

The hiding-place is in Father's office building. On the bottom floor is the warehouse, and next to it an entrance to the office, which is upstairs. There are two offices — a front one which is big and light, and a small dark one at the back. Not many people work in Father's offices, just Mr Kugler, Mr Kleiman, Miep and a twenty-three-year-old typist called Bep Voskuijl. Mr Voskuijl, Bep's father, works in the warehouse with two helpers, who don't know anything about us. (...) Up on the second floor is our "Secret Annexe". There are some attics for storage on the left, and on the right is the door to our hiding-place, behind a revolving bookcase. It's surprising that there are so many rooms behind that small grey door.

Margot and I share a small room, and Mother and Father's bedroom is also our sitting-room. Up the stairs again is a big light room which will be the kitchen and Mr and Mrs van Daan's bedroom. There is a very small room for Peter, their son, and another attic. So that's our lovely Annexe!

Rooms (from the ground floor up):

- 1 Warehouse (stores)
- 2 Kitchen of the company
- 3 Door to Otto Frank's private office
- 4 Viktor Kugler's office
- 5 Johannes Kleiman's, Miep Gies' and Bep Voskuijl's offices
- 6 Warehouse
- 7 Attic
- 8 The revolving door entrance behind the bookcase
- 9 Washroom and toilet
- 10 Otto, Edith and Margot Frank's bedroom
- 11 Anne Frank and Fritz Pfeffer's bedroom
- 12 Common living room and dining room (at night, Hermann & Auguste van Pels' bedroom)
- 13 Peter van Pelt's bedroom and ladder to the attic
- 14 Attic
- 15 Loft

Part 3 – Read another extract from Anne Frank’s diary:

Tuesday, 29 September 1942

Try to imagine this. We haven't got a bathroom, so we all take our water away to wash in different places! Peter goes in the office kitchen, which has a glass door. Mr van Daan carries his hot water upstairs so that he can be private. Mrs van Daan hasn't had a bath yet — she can't decide which is the best place for it! Father goes into the private office and Mother into the kitchen. Margot and I share the front office. We close the curtains and wash ourselves there in the dark!

On Wednesday someone was doing repairs in the office downstairs. We couldn't use the toilet or use water all day. Father and I found a suitable pot which we could all use as a toilet! We had to sit still all day and not say a word! That was the most difficult thing for me.

4. Why couldn't they use water all day on Wednesday?
 - a) Because there were people downstairs who could hear them.
 - b) Because they had cut off the water supply.
 - c) Because it was too cold.

5. What did they use as a toilet?
 - a) They used the bath.
 - b) They used a pot.
 - c) They didn't use anything.
6. What did they do all day?

Part 5. Read the last entry in Anne's diary:

Tuesday, 1 August 1944

I'm two people, really, as I've often told you. One side of me is cheerful and amusing, and enjoys a kiss or a rude joke. This is the Anne that people know, and they will be amused by me for an afternoon, but after that they've had enough of me for a month! No one knows the other side, the better side of Anne. It's deeper and finer. But the first Anne always shows herself, and won't let the second Anne out. I try, but it doesn't work. It's because I'm afraid —afraid that people will laugh at me. Of course people laugh at me now —I'm used to it— but they laugh at the amusing 'lighthearted' Anne. She doesn't care, but the 'deeper' Anne is too weak for that. If I make the good Anne come out even for fifteen minutes, she won't speak, and allows Anne number one to talk. Then, before I realize it, she's disappeared again.

So the nice Anne never comes out in front of other people, but she's almost always there when I'm alone. I would like to change, and I'm trying hard, but it's difficult. If I'm quiet and serious, my family thinks I'm ill! But I keep trying to become what I would like to be, and what I could be if... if only there were no other people in the world.

Part 6. Read what happened at the end of Anne's diary:

On the morning of 4 August 1944, a car arrived at 263 Prinsengracht, the address of the Secret Annexe. German and Dutch police arrested the eight people who were hiding in the Annexe. Somebody must have told the authorities that they were hiding there. They also arrested two of their helpers, Mr Kugler and Mr Kleiman.
