

The Dead Sea Facts

An appositive is a noun or a noun phrase that identifies or renames the word or words that precede it. Use commas to set off the appositive from the rest of the sentence.

Example:

The Dead Sea Al-Baḥr Al-Mayyit in Arabic is a landlocked salt lake between Israel and Jordan.

The Dead Sea, Al-Baḥr Al-Mayyit in Arabic, is a landlocked salt lake between Israel and Jordan.

Rewrite each sentence correctly using appositives.

1. The Jordan River the major water source flows into the Dead Sea at its northern end.

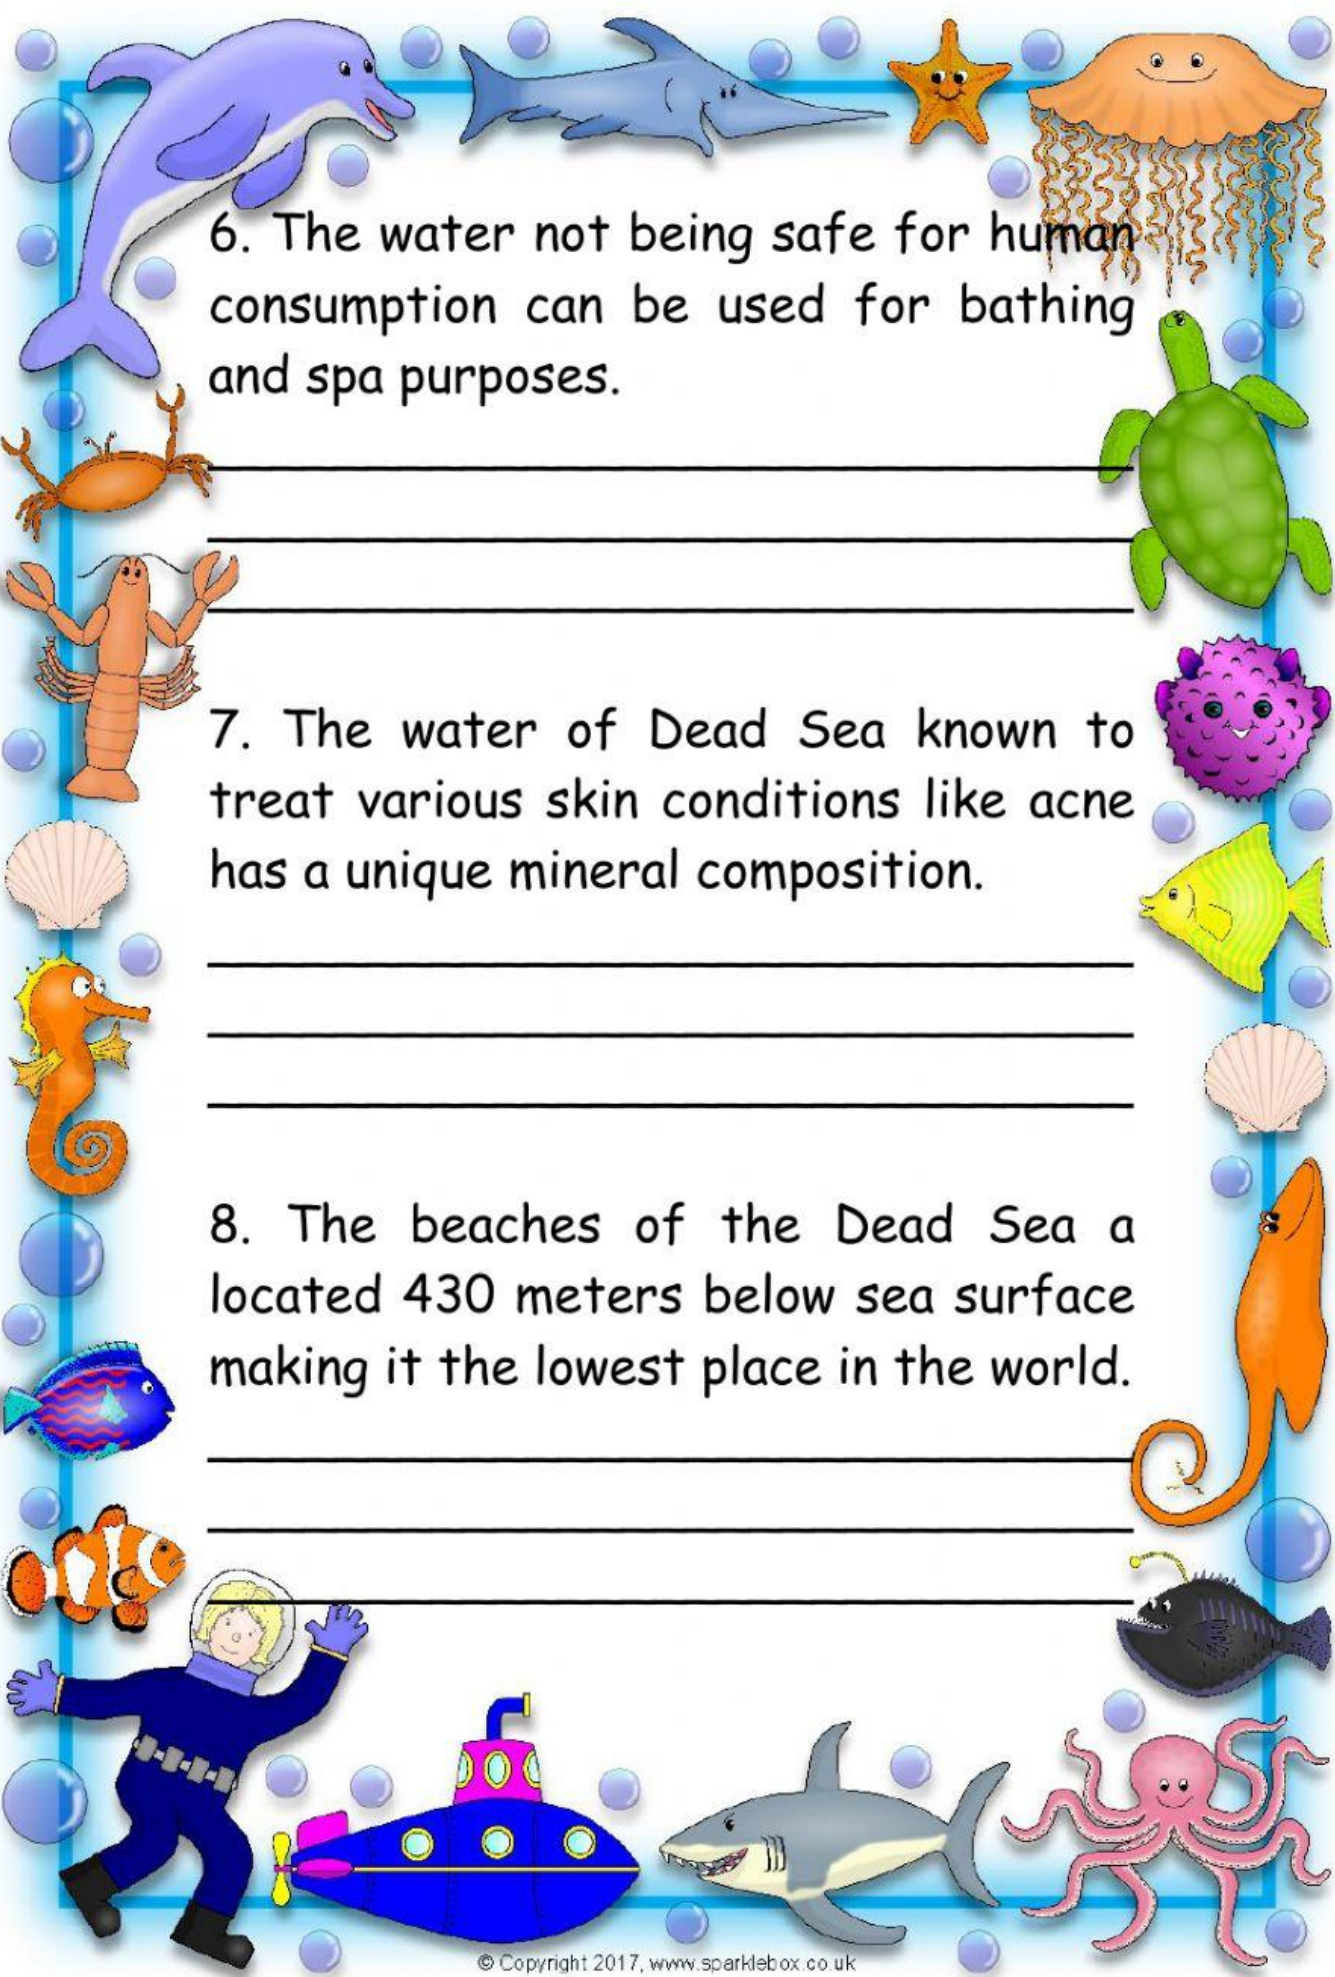

2. It is the lowest body of water on the surface of Earth only 1,300 to 1,400 feet below sea level.

3. The salty water weighing more than fresh water lets people float in the Dead Sea without any effort.

4. The Dead Sea Salt is filled with minerals like calcium, saline, potassium all which are found in a human body.

5. The salt of the Dead Sea very much bitter in taste is not like our regular table salt.

6. The water not being safe for human consumption can be used for bathing and spa purposes.

7. The water of Dead Sea known to treat various skin conditions like acne has a unique mineral composition.

8. The beaches of the Dead Sea a located 430 meters below sea surface making it the lowest place in the world.
