Choose the correct literary device is written in the poem.

Alphabet Stew
By Jack Prelutsky

Words can be stuffy, as sticky as glue,	-alliteration	consonance	assonance but words can be tutored to tickle you too,	-alliteration	consonance	assonance to rumble and tumble and tingle and sing,	-alliteration	consonance	assonance to buzz like a bumblebee, coil like a spring.	-onomatopoeia	simile	alliteration Juggle their letters and jumble their sounds,	-alliteration	consonance	assonance swirl them in circles and stack them in mounds,	-alliteration	consonance	assonance twist them and tease them and turn them about,	-alliteration	consonance	assonance teach them to dance upside down, inside out.	-alliteration	consonance	assonance Make mighty words whisper and tiny words roar	-alliteration	personification	simile in ways no one ever had thought of before;	- - -