Athletics Championships

Right everyone! Some important information about the three college trips before the end of June. Firstly, we're all going to Birmingham to see the International Athletics Championships. That's the only trip (14)_____ during March because I know that April is such a busy time for students. We're going on the 15th. For those of you who haven't (15)_____ before, it's the largest single sports competition in Britain, so we're really pleased that we're going. A hundred and (16)_____ will take part, which means you'll see five hundred and twenty world-class sportsmen and women there, and you'll be amongst thousands of other fans. The stadium (17)_____!

We'll be leaving here early and we've decided to go by train this time and not hire a coach, because we got (18)_____ when we went to Birmingham before. I hope everyone's pleased about that.

Next, someone asked me what to take. Firstly, what not to take! Leave your cameras behind because taking photos (19)_____, but you must have your identity card with you as we've bought a group ticket, and you may need to show it. Mobile phones are okay, but you'll have to turn them off during the event, so it's probably better not to take them.

If you want to read some more about the event on the Internet, go to Birmingham's website. Then look for the word 'Birinfo' in the page index, that's spelt B-I-R-I-N-F-O. You'll find all kinds of information about the Championships there.

As for our trip, I don't have the final (20)_____ yet, but I will by this afternoon. So, I think I'll write an information sheet with answers to all your questions on it. You'll get copies of this on Friday, so you can read through everything over the weekend.

Right ... the second trip will ...
