Fun facts!

Some words in the English language are different. In the UK, «печенье» is called a biscuit and in the USA it is called a cookie. This happens with some other words, for example:

Russian	British English	American English
квартира	flat	apartment
осень	autumn	fall
каникулы	holidays	vacation

Because of such differences, people sometimes cannot understand each other.

When children have a break at school, they can have a snack. For example, in the USA, children bring lunchboxes with food to school. They not only eat their own food, but also share it with their classmates.
