Two friends are discussing what to eat. Complete the dialogue with the correct word: a/a, some, or any.

A: I'd like to make a special meal tonight. What do you think?

B: I think it's a good idea. What about making a chicken curry?

A: I love this idea. We need _____ chicken and _____ rice. We have rice but we don't have _____ chicken.

B: I have to go to the supermarket. I can buy _____ pound. Do you need any other ingredients?

A: Well, we need _____ tomatoes too.

B: Okay, no problem. Do you need _____ onions?

A: No, I don't. There are _____ onions in the refrigerator.

B: Ok, I'll go to the supermarket and get the ingredients. Do you need anything else?

A: For the chicken curry no, but I'd like to have _____ dessert.

B: What about _____ apple pie? There is a special offer available at the supermarket in the bakery department.

A: Sounds good!
