1. The dog on David's farm is called _____.
2. It was _____ in the morning when William asked the children to come with him and look for the sheep.
3. David's dad needed to find _____ because they weren't in the west field.
4. William, the children and Pirate went up the hill in a _____.
5. William told the dog to _____ the sheep.
6. After Pirate jumped out of the tractor, he went _____.
7. That evening, Pirate was tired but he enjoyed eating his _____.

I'm Helen. I live in the (0) city but last August I visited my new school friend, David, who lives on a farm in the north of the country. His dad, William, is a famous (1) actor, but he's a farmer too! I saw lots of cows and other (2) animals there, but I remember Pirate, the black and white sheep dog, most. Early one morning, David's dad came into the kitchen. 'The sheep in the west field aren't there now!' he said. 'I must find them. Come and help me!' David and I jumped up and followed him outside. We all (3) climbed up onto the back of his big old green tractor. Pirate jumped up into the front. William drove the tractor up the hill. Suddenly, Pirate got very (4) excited.
William stopped the engine and shouted, 'Go, Pirate! Find the sheep!' Pirate jumped down and ran behind some trees. A minute later, we saw him again. The clever dog ran around the sheep to make them come back down into the west field.
David's dad (5) whistled loudly and called, 'Well done, Pirate! Brilliant!' Pirate worked very hard that day. 'He's tired,' I whispered to David after dinner. 'He ran a long way today.' But Pirate wasn't too tired to eat some of his favourite cookies that evening!

D. Read the story. Choose a word from the box. Write the correct word next to numbers 1-5.
