Five Teenagers Talk about Home

Michel: I live with my parents, my brother and sisters and my grandparents! I live in Italy where large families often live together. It's great. My grandparents always have free time to help me with my homework and we stay in to watch films. Sometimes it's hard because we live in a small house – often there are eight people at home for dinner.

Guy: I share a room with my brother. My sisters also share a room, but they are always in our room. They play computer games and listen to music. It's never quiet in there, so I hardly ever do homework in my room. It's a waste of time!

Francine: On a typical school day, I get up at 6 a.m. because this is the only time I can get into the bathroom. If I get up half an hour later, I usually wait for an hour just to have a shower. My guilty pleasure is to have a bath late at night when everyone is asleep!

Noah: I live with my mum. She works, so when I get home, I usually do housework, then I do my homework. Sometimes my friends come over and we play computer games, but not very often. My mum gets home at six and we have dinner late in the evening.

Shireen: My parents always tell me to do my homework after school. I just want to play songs. I never have any fun. Sometimes I ask to go out with my friends, but they just say to stay in – it's a school night. At least it's the weekend tomorrow and I can go to the park with my friends.
