|  Hi Chris! Guess what happened (1) yesterday / last night during the storm.        | I don't know, what happened?                                                          |
| Well, I was watching TV when I heard a loud noise.                                                                                                                                | What was it?                                                                          |
| A huge tree fell down in our (2) road / street ! It fell in our garden.                                                                                             | No way! That's (3) terrible / bad news. Was anybody hurt?               |
| No, luckily everybody was OK. We were all inside because of the awful weather.                                                                                                    | Great, I'm really pleased about that.                                                 |
| Well, I've got some good news too! A reporter from the local TV station came and interviewed us about what happened. I'm going to be on TV (4) tonight / tomorrow ! | Wow, that's (5) amazing / fantastic ! I'm definitely going to watch it. |
