Ann lives in Pamplona with her parents and her little sister Lily, but she was born in London, England. Ann is ten years old and her sister is five. The family came to live in Pamplona when Ann was 7 years old.

They really like living in Pamplona, where they have a nice little house with a front garden and a small backyard where the girls can play.

Last month they had a holiday and they went to London because Ann's grandparents live there, in a big old house. Ann likes this place a lot because she lived there when she was a baby.

Ann remembered some of the places they visited in London but Lily didn't. Ann's favourite place was the Natural History Museum, but her sister didn't like it because she was scared of the dinosaurs. Lily's favourite place was the London

Eye. She loved it and she didn't want to get off. Both girls loved the Tower bridge , especially because they were lucky enough to see the bridge opening to let a huge ship pass through.

They also enjoyed the food. Ann liked the super- breakfast of eggs, toasts and beans that her mother prepared every morning. They had a great time even though the weather wasn't very good. It was warm but it rained most of the time.

While she was in London, Ann wrote postcards for her friends in Pamplona.
