Olguita's Eco-Activism in "El Paraíso"

	Olguita is a teacher at Llano Oriental School in Bosa, Carbonel. She is the protector and caretaker of the school garden called "El Paraíso".
	Olguita was born and raised on a farm in Bosa La Paz. She lived with her family and grew up surrounded by animals, fruits, and vegetables. There, she learned how to take care of the land and nature.
Beginning of the school garden	About 20 years ago, Olguita started her eco-activism through the school garden "El Paraíso". With the help of parents and families from the school, they prepared the land to grow plants.
	Nowadays, Olguita is an environmental leader. She leads projects to make "El Paraíso" a place for sustainable agriculture. Thanks to her work, "El Paraíso" is now a green and beautiful garden in our school.
