PART 3. READING

Read the following passage and do as direct.

Many people think that a whale is a type of fish. Although a whale is not a fish at all, whales and fish are much alike in many ways. Like fish, whales live in the water. Both whales and fish have fins to swim. Whales often stay together in groups, which are known as pods. Many kinds of fish also stay together in groups, which are called schools. Whales are different from fish in one important way. A fish can breathe underwater, but a whale cannot. A whale must come to the surface of the water to breathe. It gets air through a hole on its back. A whale can hold its breath under the water for a long time. However, after a while, it must come back up for more air.

A whale is not a fish, but a mammal. There are many kinds of mammals, like dogs, cats, and horses. Most mammals live only on land. Some mammals, such as beavers, live partly on land and partly in water. In addition to whales, just one other mammal - the sea cows - lives only in water.

23. Whales are a kind of fish.

A. False B. True

24. Whales are completely different from fish.

A. False B. True

25. We call a group of fish a school.

A. False B. True

26. A fish can breathe underwater, but a whale can't.

A. False B. True

27. How are whales like dogs, cats, and horses?

A. All have the same shape. B. All stay together in groups.

C. All are the same size. D. All are mammals.

28. How are sea cows and whales alike?

A. They have holes in their backs. B. They are kinds of fish.

C. They can breathe under the water. D. They spend their lives in the water.

Choose the word (A, B, C or D) that best fits the blank space in the following passage.
