@Omar I'm going to Florida for the spring break! Are there any [1]attractions / equipment that are worth seeing? What was the best part of your trip to Florida?

@Eddie Definitely, visiting the Everglades National Park. It was so quiet and [2]wildlife / peaceful! We spent two days in the park. On the first day, we decided to [3]go cycling / explore the park so we drove around and stopped at different places for a short walk or to take pictures. On the second day, we went [4]canoeing / looking around and it was such an amazing experience! The views were [5]suncream / spectacular! Being in the water gave us a chance to look at [6]ruins / wildlife. We even saw some crocodiles! If you go, take [7]exhibition / sun cream and something that keeps insects away.

@Daria I loved the [8]countryside / caves in the Florida Cavern State Park near Tallahassee. At first, I was scared because the space was narrow and it was quite dark under the ground but after a few minutes it was OK. We went on a [9]guided tour / audio guide and learned how people used these places in the past.

@Clarissa You can't miss the NASA Kennedy Space Center! There's so much you can do. Start by [10]going cycling / looking around the Rocket Garden where you can see real rockets. They're huge! There are a few fantastic [11]caves / exhibitions. My favourite one shows the inside of a rocket and the [12]attraction / equipment astronauts used during their space travels. When you buy tickets, choose a special [13]audio / canoeing guide. Well, it's more than just that. It isn't only listening to information, you also look at maps and photos.
