GRAMMAR

Because

Because answers the question "Why?"

I'm swimming because it's hot outside!	Because it's cold outside, I'm not swimming.
You're running because you're in gym class.	Because it's hot outside, you're not running.
We're wearing jackets because we're cold!	Because we're cold, we're not wearing shorts.
(No comma)	(Use a comma)

1 Listen and check (√). 6.5

1. Why is Beto wearing his blue sweatshirt today?

   ☐ He's wearing it because it's cold outside.

   ☐ He's wearing it because he likes blue.

2. Why is Oscar wearing shorts and a T-shirt?

   ☐ He's wearing them because he has gym class.

   ☐ He's wearing them because he has soccer after school.

3. Why is Nadia wearing a long skirt?

   ☐ She's wearing it because it's cold outside.

   ☐ She's wearing it because she loves it.

4. Why is Bettina wearing her blue hat?

   ☐ She's wearing it because it's cold and windy.

   ☐ She's wearing it because blue is her favorite color.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

2 Write sentences.

1. isn't wearing shoes / She / she's swimming / because

_____.

2. he's / his favorite clothes / feels good / Mateo / because / wearing

_____.

3. it's raining, / Because / have soccer today / we don't

_____.

4. it's / a sweatshirt / I'm / cold / because / wearing

_____.

5. it's / jackets and boots / Because / snowing, / they're / wearing

_____.

3 Complete the sentences. Use because and the words in the box.

he's wearing a jacket	it's cold	the weather is nice	they are her school colors

1. We aren't swimming _____.
2. Hana is wearing blue and yellow _____.
3. _____, the kids are running outside.
4. _____, he feels warm.

4 Complete the sentences. Make them true for you.

1. Because the weather is _____, I am _____.
2. I am _____ because _____.

LIVEWORKSHEETS