The Empire State Building race

[1] ___ you been running as a hobby for a few years? Have you [2] ___ bored jogging round and round your local [3] ___? Then [4] ___ up the 1,576 steps in the Empire State Building for a change. That's exactly what 600 runners from 18 countries do each year. Running up 86 floors may seem a crazy way to spend your free time, but for runners it's as exciting as playing the latest [5] ___ on your favourite console. Runners have [6] ___ part in this famous race [7] ___ over 36 years now. Australians Mark Bourne and Suzy Walsham have [8] ___ become the fastest man and woman to complete the race to the top of the famous American building. Bourne managed to climb all 1,576 steps in an amazing 10 minutes and 12 seconds. Walsham finished the women's race in 12 minutes and five seconds. This isn't her first success, though. She [9] ___ the women's race a number of times [10] ___ she first entered a few years ago.
