A Hobby That Changed My Life

Last September, I joined a creative club at our sports and arts centre. At first, I wanted to play volleyball, but my friend Lily encouraged me to try something out of the ordinary: making short videos. I had never made a video before, so the first lesson was quite challenging.

Since then, I have been learning how to write scripts and use a camera. Lily is responsible for the music, and I usually prepare the scripts. We have already made three short films. Our latest film is about protecting animals in our town. We spent two Saturdays filming in a local park.

Last month, our club organised an exhibition. We showed our films to visitors, and many people left positive comments. I was nervous at first, but the experience was unforgettable.

Now we are preparing a new film about sports. We have been working on it for two weeks, but we haven't finished it yet. I hope we can show it at the school festival next month. This hobby has helped me improve my creativity and meet people who have something in common with me.
