Les Couleurs

The spelling of French colours changes depending on the gender (masculin/feminin) and number (singular/ plural) of the object you are describing. The masculin spelling is the original form, the feminin form adds an e, and you add s to either masculin or feminin if there are more than one object (plural forms).
Orange never changes
Blanc becomes blanche in feminin form, Violet becomes violette in feminin form
If it already ends in e, you do not add another e for feminin unless it is é, nor do you add an extra s for plural

-------Use the tex tool to fill in the answers------

anglais	Masculin singulier	Feminin singulier	Masculin Pluriel	Feminin Pluriel
blue				bleues
black	noir
red		rouge
white		blanche
green	vert
purple			pourprés
mauve				mauves
orange				orange
pink	rose
grey			gris
violet		violette
yellow		jaune

LIVEWORKSHEETS